

Consortium of Universities for Global Health
Leadership Awards 2018
CUGH/Wasserheit Young Leader Award

New York City, NY

Consortium of Universities
for Global Health

WWW.CUGH.ORG
@CUGHNEWS

CUGH/Wasserheit Young Leader Award

Faith Nawagi

Faith Nawagi is a Ugandan born and raised in Kampala. Currently she serves as the African Representative for the Global Educational exchanges in the Medicines and the Health Professions (GEMx) project. This project aims at building partnerships across the globe to realize enhancement of exposure to various health systems for medical and health professional students. With a profound interest in research and partnerships, she has won and implemented 06 mini grants and has built partnerships across the globe with a focus on research, academia and global Health. She is currently enrolled into a masters in International Public Health at Euclid University, Global Health Institute.

Consortium of Universities
for Global Health

