Join CUGH's Young Global Health Professional Network (CYGHPN)

Overview and Purpose

The Consortium of Universities for Global Health is one of the world's largest academic based global health consortia. Based in Washington, DC it has a membership of over 170 academic institutions and partner organizations and a network of 38,000 global health practitioners worldwide. Its mission is to improve the health of people and the sustainability of the planet.

CUGH has a Trainee Advisory Committee comprised of 25 global health students from around the world. They implement activities by and for students and act as a conduit for CUGH activities to learners worldwide. Many early-career global health practitioners and students have been seeking a way to network worldwide. In response to this interest, CUGH has created the Young Global Health Professional Network. Its purpose is to provide such a global network where students and young global health professionals can connect, share interests, advice, and opportunities.

Membership: Under the age of 40 by December 31st of the current year.
